THE BEST MAGAZINE.

The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature,
IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without question the best Magasine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convomient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—
the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their mest gifted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines.
Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in mouthly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,300 pages, richly embellished with 12 splendid portraits of distinguished persons or historical misjects. The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be seet promptly by mail to all who order it.

THE SOVEREIGN RULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Views of Southern Laws, Life, and Hospitality Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mo volume of over 300 pages, small plea. Price—in paper, 50 cents; muslin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, steward of the British brig Jan 1850, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Era of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina by which her citizens claim a right to imprison colorea secons, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a lifelike picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; to gether with the imprisonment of Pereira, several sea men belonging to the New England States, and two Prench seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot be mistaken. The work is written by one whe has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the South and cannot fail to interest alike the general reader commercial man, and philanthropist."

DEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.

"Rollo on the Atlantic." is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true."

CLEVELAND'S ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY New Edition.

C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth street, Philadelphia, have recently published a new, stereotype edition of English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,

On the plan of the author's "Compendium of English Literature," and supplementary to it. Designed for colleges and advanced classes in schools as well as for private reading. By Charles D. Cleveland.

The "Compendium of English Literature," by Prof. Cleveland, comprises biographical sketches and selections from the writings of English authors, from Cleveland, comprises biographical sketches and selections from the writings of English authors, from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century, chronologically arranged; together with copious Notes, explanatory, illustrative, &c. The volume now advertised, which is arranged on the same plan as the "Compendium," comprises in its list of authors such as flourished in the eighteenth century, but died in the present; together with those strictly of the nineteenth century, whether living or dead.

The present edition of "English Literature of the Nineteenth Century" contains biographical sketches and selections from the writings of one hundred and six authors, the names of twenty-seven of whom did not appear in the table of contents of the former edition; together with many improvements throughout the volume.

Prof. C.'s two volumes of English Literature are now extensively used as text-books in colleges, academies, and the higher class of seminaries, throughout the United States. The following opinions relative to "English Literature of the Nineteenth Century," are selected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale

are selected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious cor densation of knowledge, are requisite to the production of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

estimate they will put upon this result of the authors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text book for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a faller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

It is, I believe, the richest collection of gens in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and delicate task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upth each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a strong testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christinn spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nincteenth Century.'

COOKERY AS IT SHOULD BE A new manual of the dining-room and kitchen, containing original recipes in every branch of cookery, domestic beverages, food for invalids, pickling, &c Together with bill of fare for every day in the year, rules for carving, &c., by a Practical Housekeeper, and pupil of Mrs. Goodfellow. With appropriate illustrations. 12mo, cloth or half-bound, 75 cents. Cookery as it should be? Ah, well, that's a pretty bold title! And a dubious one, too, exclaims another, for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should bold title! And a dubious one, too, exclaims another, for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should be, that will be nothing now, for we all know by daily experience what it should and could be, but what it is not. Well, she tells you what it should be, and how to make it so; and in short, plain, practical, and simple rules, such as the result of a long and constantly active experience in providing for the daily wants of a large household, enables her to do in the very best manner. Every one who has eaten at our authoress's board will bear ample testimony to the excellent qualities of the many good things she daily sets before them, prepared under her own superintendence, and the rules for making which she herein sets forth.

The recipes of the world-renowned Mrs. Goodfellow, for cakes, pastry, and sweetmeats, are now for the first time collected together for the benefit of all who desire to be good housekeepers.

In short, this new Cook Book is offered to the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the publisher invites all housekeepers to purchase it and give it a trial, confident that they will recommend it to their friends as the only practical Cook Book of which they can make daily use in all their household duties.

THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Edited by Uncle Lucius, Syracuse, N. Y.

The want of a paper for children, of a reformatory character, has long been felt. The juvenile papers of our land do not meet the demands of the community. They please the eye and interest the reader, but do not instruct and enlighten the mind with reference to the great sins of the day. Reformers! The Juvenile Instructor is intended to meet this demand. It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.

The Instructor is published every other week, or twenty-six numbers per year. A new volume commences January 5, 1854. A Corresponding Editor has been secured. Her writings for children are already known and admired by many. Hustrations will be given in every number. No reasonable expense will be spared to make it attractive. Five thousand subscribers were added last year.

CHORAL ADVOCATE CHORAL ADVOCATE

Is the cheapest and best Musical Paper in the world. This Journal, which has beretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenosforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) guntlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the research agency in the character, in the character, in the character, in the character in the subscription is the character, in the subscription is the character, in the world, and the research agency is the character, in the contractions by all the leading publishing these in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapest as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.—One dellar per annum, or six copies for five dellars, always in advance.

IT The music alone in a volume would cost over five dellars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dellar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

These Reprints have now been in successful operation in this country for twenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase, notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and of numerous Edecticand Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact show clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

lished on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is at this time unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magasine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," both by Bulwer; "M3 Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be rethe leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Black wood, after it has been issued by Messrs. THE GREAT AMERICAN TEMPERANCE TALE. MRS. BEN DARBY;

THE WEAL AND WOE OF SOCIAL LIFE. One Volume 12mo, $1.

THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are described with much spirit and graphic effect. * *

* We are disposed to regard the book as the best of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller. It is not often that we read a story of any kind but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Written with marked ability .- Zanesville Courier,

A thrilling picture of the effects of that information bane of social life, intemperance.—Richmond Palladrum.

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a freshness and originality about it, that is very pleasing. * * * One of its chief merits is the excellence of its conversations.—Enquirer.

Has so many thrilling passages and well drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meek patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—New Albany Tribune.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and at times very elequent. We would commend it especially to young ladies, that they may see to what dangers they are exposed, in forming alliances with the fashionable in high life.—Ohio Organ.

A deeply interesting and powerful work. It vividly portrays some of the terrific exploits of strong drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a benedicent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lessons.—Presbyterian.

* * * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of

* * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of fascination, as well as in its grim and dismal aspect of open degradation. Rarely has a woman ventured to hold the torch to such a dark recess of human woe.—Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely heautiful, more intensely absorbing, more everyowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * * * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.—Journal and Messenger.

Beautifully written. * * * A work of great strength and power.—Gospel Herald.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT! ELEVENTH VOLUME OF

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST THE LEADING

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarte pages, making an annual volume of 832 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agricul-also of those in the first ton volumes of the Agriculturist.

It is beautifully printed with type cast expressly for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wide margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener, and the Stock Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our renders constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately portaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbugs and nostrums aftent in the community will be tried by reliable scientific rales, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep this paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

Amnerst College; Rev. Wm. Clift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pen.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

Specimen Copies.

FARM FOR SALE.

Dec. 22

FARM FOR SALE.

WILL be sold at private sale, that well-known Farm lying on Seventh street Plank Read, in Montgomery county, Maryland, about eight miles from Washington city, containing 372; acres, more or less; about 100 in meadow, 100 in wood, and the balance (1721) in cleared fields. The Farm can be divided into several, giving a fair proportion of wood and meadow land to cach. The whole Farm is well watered, several never-failing streams passing through it. The feneing is good, and there is a large quantity of chestnut timber in the woods, suitable for a further division of the fields.

In point of health, beanty, and location, it is not surpassed by any farm in the State of Maryland. It has always been remarkable for its beauty. The dwelling contains eight rooms, kitchen, pantry, &c., garret, cellars, &c., all surrounded by a neat-paling, with a pump of good water in the yard; barn, stable, and other out houses; good spring-house, with a never-failing spring of delightfully cool water attached.

Servants' quariers for as many hands as would ever be necessary on the Farm.

A good apple orchard, and some excellent peaches, poars, cherries, &c.

The road being now of the very best character, produce from the Farm and manures from the City can be hauled at any and all seasons of the year.

This property will be sold trenty-five per cent. cheaper than any other property on the road between it and the city. With an ordinary horse, it is not more than an hour's drive to the city.

Any communications addressed to CHARLES V. GORDON, Washington, D. C., will receive attention.
